If Walls Could Talk Celebrates Grand Opening

Sanford, FL (February 25, 2010) – If Walls Could Talk, a new custom picture framing shop located at 101 W. 1st Street, Sanford, FL 32771, is hosting its grand opening on Saturday, March 6, 2010 from 4:00 – 8:00 pm. Light refreshments will be served and local artist, Marlene London, will be present. Jewelry samples by Capricorn Creations will be available for purchase.

Co-owners, Marian Barnard and Karen Casey, are excited to bring their experience and creative eye to the new Sanford retail district. The women have more than 30 years combined framing experience and worked together for nine years before deciding to launch their own frame shop.

"We want people to know that we do more than prints; we can create lasting memories with almost anything, from the simplest snapshot to more complex projects such as shadowboxes," said Ms. Barnard.

"We enjoy making each vision a reality. It's not just about selling a frame! We are detail oriented and really like discussing ideas with our customers," added Ms. Casey.

Able to produce museum-quality framing, the business partners are also able to work within your budget no matter how simple or how complicated the project. They also offer in-home or in-office consultations, delivery service and can assist with installations.
